

Access Midwifery

July 14, 2017

Locum Position Available in Victoria, BC

Access Midwifery is hiring a midwife locum to cover a 7-month educational leave with the possibility of an extension to one year.

Start Date: February 1, 2018

Remuneration: As per the Midwives Association of BC locum fee guideline

About our practice:

Access Midwifery is a busy 6 midwife practice with excellent administrative support. The locum would work full time (4-5 due dates per month) with holiday and regular time off-call. The locum will be working in a shared care model. We are committed to supporting one another with home birth back up, break relief for long labours, and regular chart and peer reviews.

Access Midwifery works with diverse clients including women with socially complex lives who have multiple barriers to accessing health care, including substance use, street-involvement, insecure housing, mental health concerns and trauma.

Privileges are at Victoria General Hospital, a tertiary care facility with 24-hour obstetrical services and a Level 3 NICU. We are a teaching practice and regularly have midwifery students.

Desired Qualifications:

- Demonstrated experience and enthusiasm for working with women with socially complex lives.
- Preferably 1+ year clinical midwifery experience but will consider new graduates with other related experience. Mentorship provided for new grads.
- Qualified to work in British Columbia
- Excellent communication skills.
