Other Information

Dawson Creek Midwifery is seeking a locum for a 6-week period of which 4 weeks will be at the regular locum rate and 2 weeks at the rural locum rate.

The currently solo-practice will be welcoming a newly graduated midwife in January and calls/clinic will be shared for 2019 and during this locum period. The team of two aim to support a caseload of 8 birth per month.

Accommodation and transport for the locum could potentially be supplied by the hosting midwife.

Dawson Creek is a rural town located in Northeast BC. There are 3 airports in the area: Dawson Creek Airport, Fort St John Airport (75km) and Grande Prairie Airport (120km).

The hospital is a level 1 hospital with one OBGYN and three GPs that share obstetric calls. The birth rate for this cozy unit is about 350 births per year. Midwifery services has been well integrated since the opening of the clinic's doors in January 2018.
