PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

I am pleased to welcome you to this beautiful corner of Gatineau, Quebec for the 17th Annual Conference, AGM and Exhibit of the Canadian Association of Midwives (CAM) and wish to acknowledge that we are gathering on traditional unceded Algonquin territory. The theme this year is In Good Hands: Midwives Leading the Way in Reproductive Health and Rights.

This year, we received a record number of abstracts, making the CAM Conference richer than ever with examples of Canadian midwives leading the way nationally and globally. The program of keynote speakers, panels, and research presentations is sure to leave us inspired and motivated to return to practice on Monday, full of new information about the ways that midwives are assuming leadership in providing reproductive and sexual health care in communities, rural, remote and urban and from coast to coast to coast.

In addition, we've organized a Global Symposium just prior to the main conference titled Exploring Best Practices in Global Reproductive Health and Rights. The day will be filled with stimulating exchanges between midwives, other health care professionals, NGOs, and global partners on themes such as provision of abortion services and family planning, sexual health, gender transformation, global Indigenous health, and monitoring and evaluation.

Thank you for attending our annual event. I hope you enjoy your time here, visiting with old friends and meeting some new ones. Please take a moment to introduce yourself to me while in Gatineau; meeting CAM members from across the country during the conference brings me great hope for the future of midwifery in Canada.

A handwritten signature in black ink, which appears to read 'Katrina Kilroy'. The signature is fluid and cursive, written in a dark ink on a white background.

Sincerely,
Katrina Kilroy, CAM President
