

Australia Work Opportunities for Midwives!

Have you always dreamed of working as a midwife in Australia, but just don't know where to begin? ICG Medical are here to help!

We are working with a reputable hospital group who has a number of sites throughout Australia. Due to the creation of new leadership roles, progression of current staff and expansion of services, they are looking for experienced midwifery staff. Locations are Sydney, Brisbane and Melbourne.

What's on offer?

- Competitive salary – dependent on experience
- Progression – professional development and promotion
- Support with relocation to include visa processing, accommodation, registration and schooling
- For those that are interested in traveling, the group are offering the opportunity to work across sites (visa-permitting)
- Culture, climate and attractions associated with working in Australia

In order to qualify for a role, you must possess the following:

- At least 12 months of midwifery experience
- Ability to register with AHPRA – this is the Australian governing body
- Energy and enthusiasm for learning new processes and adapting to life in Australia
