

Full time locum at Pomegranate Midwives

Full time locum position available at Pomegranate Midwives starting July 1, 2019 – Jan 31, 2020, with the potential to extend until March 31, 2020.

We are a team of four midwives, taking a caseload of approximately 13 per month, caring for families in Vancouver and Burnaby. The successful candidate would work collaboratively on the team of four, with a willingness to help out the larger team at Pomegranate as needed. We typically give ourselves 2 weeks of vacation every 4 month period. Typical workload is one day of clinic and two to three 24 hour call shifts per week. Our team has a 35-40% homebirth rate and comfort with homebirth is a must. We strongly believe in informed choice and supporting choices that may fall outside routine community standards. The successful applicant will be passionate about birth, informed choice, and client centered care!

Pomegranate Community Midwives is a wonderfully supportive group with two other teams of midwives. While each team carries it's own case load, we all help each other out with back up for homebirths, coverage for urgent home visits if you are at a birth, and labour sitting as needed. You would be well supported by our extended team! We are all committed to supporting one another with backup, protected time off and set vacation times. We use OSCAR for all our charting and experience with this is great, but not necessary. New registrants welcome to apply.

Please send CVs and inquiries to Natalie Amram and Amy Braunstein

natalieamram@gmail.com abraunstein.rm@gmail.com

Thank you and look forward to hearing from you!