

Research Fellow: Monitoring and Evaluation of CAM's Global Programs

Title: MITACS Research Fellow – Monitoring and Evaluation of CAM's Global Programs

Location: Montreal, Quebec, CAM project sites overseas, and remote work

Background

The Canadian Association of Midwives (CAM) is the national professional association representing midwives and the profession of midwifery in Canada. The National Aboriginal Council of Midwives' (NACM) mission is to promote excellence in reproductive health care for First Nations, Inuit and Métis communities. Both organizations are governed autonomously but share office space and resources and both are staffed by a passionate team of individuals dedicated to providing support for midwives and the profession of midwifery across Canada and globally. CAM's Global Programs bring the skills of Canadian midwives to support our midwifery association partners in the global south. CAM believes that midwives play a fundamental and unique role in providing quality sexual, reproductive, maternal, and newborn health in Canada and overseas.

We encourage applications from all backgrounds and communities and are committed to having a team that is made up of diverse skills, experiences and abilities.

Job Summary

CAM is looking for two researchers to build monitoring and evaluation frameworks to evaluate the work we're doing in our Global Programs. We are offering two paid research positions, in cooperation with MITACS and a host academic institution.

Please note that you need to be a Masters or PhD student or a Post-Doctoral Fellow to apply for these positions.
