About MRU

Founded in 1910 and located in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, Mount Royal University has built a reputation on a strong, liberal education foundation. Our vision is to provide an exceptional undergraduate educational experience for our students.

We are a community of engaged citizens, providing personalized, experiential and outcome-based learning in an environment of inclusion, diversity, and respect. Through our focus on teaching and learning informed by scholarship, we are preparing our graduates for success in their careers and lives.

Mount Royal University presently offers 12 four-year baccalaureate degrees with 35 majors, with a view to growing this mix to 15 degrees and 60 majors by 2025. Current degree offerings are unique and include four-year bachelor degrees in interior design, midwifery, child studies, and health and physical education, as well as arts, criminal justice, business administration, communication, computer information systems, education, nursing, and science. Mount Royal also offers robust continuing education programming as well as an internationally-renowned music conservatory.

More than 14,000 credit students attend Mount Royal University annually, with more than 90,000 Mount Royal alumni contributing to their communities worldwide.

Our faculty provide a teaching and learning environment that welcomes challenging ideas. Our staff are dedicated to supporting our campus so that students are provided with an exceptional educational experience. Our management team provides leadership throughout the University and inspires others at all levels to be leaders in their own important sectors.

In support of our students, and in response to our broader community, we know that investing in our employees benefits the University as a whole. Talented and committed employees are the driving force behind student success. Our faculty, staff, and management are united in creating a thriving learning environment for our students.

Mount Royal University is an exceptional community focused on our people.

About the School of Nursing and Midwifery

The Bachelor of Midwifery Program in the School of Nursing and Midwifery in the Faculty of Health, Community, and Education at Mount Royal University is situated in an ancient and storied place within the hereditary lands of the Niitsitapi (Blackfoot), Îyârhe Nakoda, Tsuut'ina, and Métis Nations. It is a land steeped in ceremony and history that, until recently, was used and occupied exclusively by peoples indigenous to this place. Our program is committed to fostering leaders at every level to create equitable and inclusive spaces that value communities and the individuals who comprise them.

A leader in innovative teaching strategies and outstanding practical instruction, Mount Royal University's School of Nursing and Midwifery prepares students to make a difference in the health and well-being of Canadians.

The School of Nursing and Midwifery offers the following programs: Bachelor of Midwifery, Bachelor of Nursing, Bridge to Canadian Nursing and Advanced Studies in Critical Care Nursing Certificate.

About the Role

All job postings are developed jointly by the hiring unit and Human Resources. Human Resources has final authority and approval on all postings. The posting draft should be sent erecruiter@mtroyal.ca when the requisition within eRecruiter is created.

The School of Nursing and Midwifery at Mount Royal University invites applications for or a one-year limited-term appointment in the Bachelor of Midwifery program, which will commence summer 2020, or a date to be negotiated, subject to final budgetary approval. Preference will be given to candidates with appropriate academic experience. Priority will be given to candidates with experience in midwifery education.

The School of Nursing and Midwifery currently offers degree programs in Midwifery and Nursing, a distance certificate program for registered nurses, and a bridging program for internationally educated nurses. The successful applicant must be qualified to teach all levels of midwifery theory and clinical in the Midwifery program as well as participate in course, program, and curricular revisions and development. Active engagement in the midwifery community in Canada is an expectation. Relevant and current certification and immunizations for the practice area (including Alberta Health Services) are required.

New faculty are hired into one of two work patterns. The teaching/ scholarship/ service pattern (TSS) has a focus on teaching with the requirement that the faculty member be involved in a research program as well as service to the Mount Royal community. The teaching/ service pattern (TS) has a focus on teaching and service only.

A Ph.D. in Midwifery or related field is preferred. A Bachelor's and Master's degree in Midwifery or related field is required. One of the undergraduate or graduate degrees must be in midwifery. The successful candidate should have a minimum of five years of current Midwifery experience. The successful candidate must be eligible for and maintain registration with the College of Midwives of Alberta. Applicants interested in the teaching/scholarship/service pattern must demonstrate the ability and intent to pursue a research program.

For further information, contact Murray Holtby, Chair, School of Nursing and Midwifery at mholtby@mtroyal.ca.

This is a Limited Term position from July 1, 2020 to June 30, 2021.

What We Offer
