

Northwest Territories is seeking locum midwives for short term (or long term!) casual contracts immediately and throughout July, August and September 2020. Hay River and Fort Smith are both beautiful communities south of the Great Slave Lake (named for the Slavey First Nations people). The midwives are well integrated into an excellent team of supportive nurses and physicians. Our clients are a diverse mix of Indigenous, Settler and new Canadians from all over the globe. The land, rivers and lakes are beautiful. Summer is short but intense and amazing. If you have an interest and want to have a chat and ask some questions please contact Martha Aitkin, Territorial Manager, Midwifery.
