Miigwetch Nia:wen for your interest!

Only those selected for an interview will be called. Please let us know if you have any questions!

Applications will be reviewed as we receive them.

What we are looking for:

- Indigenous, BPOC, and racialized midwives are especially invited to apply
- Non-Indigenous identified midwives who are fun, hardworking, savvy, have experience managing epidurals and oxytocin, and who have a realistic and positive perspective on post-colonial issues facing Indigenous families in Toronto
- You have experience working with Indigenous community and/or other marginalized groups
- Midwives who speak another language - Indigenous languages are a special asset

What we have to offer:

- Privileges at a supportive tertiary level hospital with epidural and oxytocin
- A supportive on-call schedule, 1 week on call/1 week off call and 9 weeks holiday per year
- LOTS of other interesting projects and learning opportunities to get involved in (community work, research, interprofessional work, etc)
