

Midwives

Midwifery – for you it’s so much more than a career...it’s a calling. And now the chance to do what you love, in a country we know you’ll love, is calling your name. Now is the time to breathe new life, energy and optimism into your career and quality of life, here with us in the Wellington region of New Zealand. So, take a breath, relax and ready yourself for the move of a lifetime.

If there was one word to encapsulate what we have to offer you, it’s ‘options’. Whether it’s core midwifery, community midwifery, primary, secondary or tertiary care...you’ll find an opportunity here that’s sure to suit. It’s in large part to do with the choice of locations we have for midwives across the greater Wellington region. With Wellington Regional Hospital, Hutt Hospital in Lower Hutt, the Kenepuru Maternity Unit at Kenepuru Community Hospital, and the Paraparaumu Maternity Unit on the Kapiti Coast all potential bases for you, finding your ideal fit will be a breeze. And regardless of where you end up, you can look forward to working with highly supportive, passionate colleagues, caring for diverse multicultural communities.

As well as excellent scope to develop your career while enjoying our unique, patient-focused model of care, you will also have the chance to live the enviable quality of life New Zealand is famous for. The Wellington region is renowned as a true lifestyle hotspot thanks to stunning natural surrounds, modern amenities, less density and the space to just breathe easy.

If you’re an experienced midwife who’s excited at what’s on offer with us, and ready to explore how you could make the move happen, talk to us today.

To apply or find out more go to justbreathemidwives.co.nz